

Otsuka Pakistan Ltd. proudly embarked on a new journey through a strategic collaboration with the Centre for Innovation in Medical Education at Aga Khan University (CIME-AKU) on Friday, May 23, 2025. CIME, recognized as the most advanced simulation-based healthcare teaching and learning institute in Pakistan and East Africa, is dedicated to transforming education in Nursing, Medicine, Surgery, Dentistry, and Allied Health professions across the region. Their mission is driven by innovation, technology, and meaningful partnerships.

Otsuka Pakistan Ltd. has signed a formal agreement with CIME-AKU to launch a capacity-building initiative under the umbrella of the “Otsuka Clinical Nutrition Excellence Forum”. This partnership will feature a series of workshops, CMEs, and seminars tailored for healthcare professionals to enhance clinical knowledge and skills.

The agreement was officially signed at CIME-AKU, Karachi, by Mr. Moin-ur-Rehman, President of Otsuka Pakistan Ltd., and Dr. Faisal Wasim Ismail, Regional Director for CIME South Asia.

As part of this collaboration, our first event will be held on Monday, June 2, 2025—a full-day, hands-on training simulation workshop titled “Mastering TPN for Better Clinical Outcomes.” This specialized workshop will focus on total parenteral nutrition (TPN) management, accredited from the American Society for Simulation in Healthcare.

Transforming Possibilities
Into Realities

We are enthusiastic about this valuable partnership with CIME-AKU, which marks an important milestone for the Otsuka Clinical Nutrition Excellence Forum in advancing education-driven capacity building. We appreciate role of every team member, Special appreciation goes to Dr. Adnan Moin Khan for his efforts in making this collaboration possible. We look forward to delivering impactful educational experiences that contribute to improved clinical outcomes and enhanced patient care.
